WOMEN LEADERSHIP MDP – OWN YOUR SPACE

Dayananda Sagar University successfully hosted the Women Leadership MDP – “Own Your Space: From Fitting In to Standing Out” on 7th March, 2026, bringing together women professionals, leaders, and participants from diverse industries for a day of reflection, dialogue, and leadership development. The program focused on helping participants build leadership confidence, presence, and strategic voice while navigating complex professional environments. Through leadership stories, interactive exercises, case discussions, and panel conversations, participants explored themes such as leadership identity, influence, visibility, and personal leadership brand. The sessions were led by Prof. Golda El Khoury, former UN leader and international development expert; Prof. Reshmi Raghavachari, leadership development specialist; and Dr. Pavithra Salankhe, Associate Professor at Dayananda Sagar University. The program concluded with a reflective conversation on leadership journeys with an Industry Leader Ms. Rashmi Mathur (Former MD Goldman Sachs, India) and practical insights on building authentic and impactful leadership. The MDP created a collaborative space for participants to learn, share experiences, and strengthen their leadership voice, reinforcing the importance of confidence, clarity, and authenticity in today’s evolving leadership landscape.

SCMS PG DEAN ENGAGES WITH UNIVERSITY OF WESTERN AUSTRALIA

The Dean, SCMS PG, Dayananda Sagar University, Capt. A. Nagaraj Subbarao, participated in a brainstorming session with representatives of the University of Western Australia, Perth, Australia.

Alumni and student engagement were discussed. The event held on March 09, 2026 at the ITC Windsor was insightful.

DRUG AND ALCOHOL ADDICTION SESSION BY NIMHANS EXPERT AT SCMS, DSU

Dayananda Sagar University strictly adheres to a zero-tolerance policy regarding substance abuse, both on and off-campus. To reinforce this commitment and sensitize students to the detrimental effects of substance abuse, a seminar titled "Drug and Alcohol Addiction" was conducted by the Anti-Drug Committee and the Prabhava Club on March 13, 2026. The event was envisioned and architected by Prof. Capt. A. Nagaraj Subbarao, PhD, Chairperson of the Anti-Drug Committee and Dean, SCMS, whose leadership continues to drive the university's mission of fostering a safe and healthy student environment.

The speaker, Dr. Jayant Mahadevan, Assistant Professor of Psychiatry at the Centre for Addiction Medicine, Department of Psychiatry, National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences (NIMHANS), Bengaluru, shared a profound clinical and social perspective on the addiction crisis. His session focused on:

- Classification of Substances: A detailed description of various addictive substances prevalent among youth.
- Preventive Measures: Practical strategies and mental resilience techniques to avoid the path of addiction.
- Recovery Pathways: Guided steps and professional avenues available for individuals seeking to overcome addiction.

The session saw an overwhelming turnout of over 200 participants, including students and faculty. The session was coordinated by Dr. Shweta Kaur Khalsa and Dr. Abhijit Ranjan Das.

SESSION ON FOUNDATIONAL UNDERSTANDING OF AI FOR SCMS-PG FACULTY

MONDAY
23 MAR 2026
10:30 TO 12:15 PM

VENUE: BLOCK A, INNOVATION CAMPUS,
KUDLU GATE, BENGALURU

The SCMS PG, Dayananda Sagar University, organized a session on “Foundational Understanding of Artificial Intelligence,” on 23rd March, 2026, which covered key aspects of AI through a well-structured agenda including AI terminologies, Machine Learning (ML), Deep Learning (DL), Generative AI, Agentic AI, Large Language Models (LLMs), and GPU architecture. The session aimed to build conceptual clarity among faculty and highlight the growing relevance of AI in management education.

Prof. Amit Sinha explained how Generative AI enables the creation of content such as text, images, and code using advanced deep learning models, and emphasized the importance of foundation models and LLMs in enabling scalable and versatile AI applications. He also introduced Agentic AI workflows, demonstrating how AI systems can execute multi-step processes such as research, drafting, and revision, thereby enhancing productivity and decision-making.

Further, the session highlighted the role of GPU computing in accelerating AI workloads. Concepts such as TFLOPS, memory bandwidth, and latency were explained to illustrate their impact on performance. The discussion also covered cloud-based GPU solutions and scalable AI infrastructure, reflecting current industry trends.

The session was highly interactive, encouraging faculty participation and discussion. It enabled faculty members to understand how AI can be effectively integrated into teaching, research, and curriculum design, thereby preparing them to incorporate AI-driven approaches in management education.

LEADING HR IN 2026 AND BEYOND: PREPARING FUTURE LEADERS FOR A CHANGING WORLD

As part of the Thursday Club – Distinguished Speaker Series, SCMS–PG hosted an insightful session on “Leading HR in 2026 and Beyond: Market Signals and Shifts Required for the Future” on March 26, 2026. The session was delivered by Dr Dieter Veldsman, Chief HR Scientist at the Academy to Innovate HR (AIHR), a globally recognised expert in HR transformation and the future of work.

The session explored how rapid technological advancements, particularly artificial intelligence, along with shifting workforce expectations and global uncertainties, are reshaping the role of Human Resources. Dr Veldsman emphasised that HR must evolve from a traditional, transactional function into a strategic driver of business performance, focusing on capability building, agility, and innovation.

A key highlight was the shift from headcount-based planning to a skills-driven approach, as well as the growing importance of AI fluency, data literacy, and digital agility. He also underscored the need for ethical AI practices and maintaining a human-centred approach in an increasingly automated world.

The session concluded with an engaging discussion, leaving students with a deeper understanding of how future leaders must adapt to and shape the evolving workplace.

ALAN TURING LECTURE SERIES

On March 27, 2026, SCMS PG hosted the inaugural session of the Alan Turing Lecture Series, featuring keynote speaker Rajeev Dixit. He shared technical and strategic insights on Artificial Intelligence, drawing from his academic experience at IIT Roorkee, Babson College, and Stanford University, and explained how emerging technologies are driving enterprise success.

The session began with an overview of the AI Stack, emphasizing the importance of rare earth minerals and hardware infrastructure. Dixit highlighted that for India to stay competitive globally, focus must extend beyond software to hardware manufacturing and resource security.

He then discussed advancements in Large Language Models (LLMs), addressing challenges like hallucinations and introducing Retrieval-Augmented Generation (RAG) as a solution. Emerging trends such as Multimodal AI, World Models, and Agentic AI were explored, showcasing systems capable of processing diverse data types and executing complex tasks autonomously.

A demonstration of the 7Seers platform illustrated AI's role in enhancing student career readiness through resume optimization for ATS and real-time mock interview feedback, signaling a shift toward personalized learning.

The session concluded with a strong emphasis on AI literacy, urging students to become technology creators and educators to act as facilitators, highlighting both the challenges and opportunities in the evolving AI landscape.

INTERNATIONAL EXPERT DR DAVIS MORRIS TO SHARE “INSIGHTS ON GLOBAL LEADERSHIP IN A FRAGMENTING WORLD” AT SCMS-PG DSU

School of Commerce and Management Studies, Dayananda Sagar University organised a four-day academic lecture series featuring Prof. David Morris from 23, 24, 25, & 28 March 2026, for faculty members and Executive MBA students. The sessions were designed to provide comprehensive insights into global geopolitics, China's strategic influence, and the implications for international business and leadership.

The first day, themed Understanding China's Global Strategy, focused on China's emergence as a global power. Discussions highlighted its evolving strategic vision, the transition in its foreign policy approach, the significance of the Belt and Road Initiative, and its expanding role in global governance.

The second day addressed Managing Geopolitical Risk, emphasising economic interdependence and associated strategic challenges. Key areas included global supply chain dependencies, technological competition, trade tensions, and policy responses adopted by major economies to manage China-related risks.

The third day explored Small States and Great Power Competition, with a focus on Indo-Pacific geopolitics. The session examined the US-China rivalry, the strategic role of smaller nations, and India's growing importance in regional diplomacy and global strategic frameworks.

The final day, conducted for Executive MBA students, focused on India, China, Business and Leadership. It provided practical insights into China's economic transformation, geopolitical challenges faced by multinational corporations, and leadership strategies required to navigate an increasingly complex global environment.

The lecture series enriched participants with critical perspectives on global strategy, geopolitics, and business leadership, enhancing their academic and professional understanding of contemporary international developments.

SCMS-PG ORGANIZED ANNUAL ALUMNI MEET 2026

The School of Commerce and Management Studies (SCMS), Dayananda Sagar University, Bengaluru marked a significant milestone by organizing its Annual Alumni Meet on March 28th, 2026 under the banner of MBA Alumni Chapter. Organized under the visionary leadership and guidance of Prof. Capt. A. Nagaraj Subbarao, PhD, Dean-SCMS, the event was conceived to foster a profound and enduring connection with students long after their academic programs concluded. The school operates on the steadfast belief that its role in an individual's life extends far beyond graduation, and it commits itself to the continuous growth and nourishment of its former students as they navigate their professional journeys.

The event witnessed a vibrant homecoming of graduates who have since established themselves in prominent roles at global industry leaders, including Buhler, Accenture, EY, Razorpay, and Fidelity. Their presence served as a testament to the school's excellence and the diverse professional landscapes its alumni now command. Esteemed Alumni of Dayananda Sagar University, Dr KN Amarnath shared his enriching experience and journey with other alumni and faculties present. MBA Batch 2023-2025 alumni, Ms Sanjana G Kottur, Tax Analyst at E&Y recalled her memories and shared her mantras of success in getting her dreams converted in reality through her efforts and institutional support.

During a heartfelt address to the gathering, the school's Dean reiterated that alumni are the institution's most significant stakeholders, emphasizing that their value to the school only deepens after they graduate. By creating this platform for synergy, SCMS has solidified a lifelong partnership with its alumni, ensuring they remain integral to the school's evolving legacy.

SCMS-PG ORGANIZED ANNUAL ALUMNI MEET 2026

Alumni meet was graced by international faculty, Dr Davd Morris (Senior Research Fellow, Guest Professor Foreign Studies University, Beijing, China) and inhouse faculties including Prof. Dr Sai Ganesh, Prof. VV Rajan (Deputy Director - Industry Relations Centre for Executive Excellence), Assistant Director – Mr Raghavendra Rao and many more.

Alumni participated wholeheartedly and they gave a number of useful suggestions and commitments to be available for more opportunities to interact, share their knowledge from industry and contribute to the university vision and help their juniors in making successful careers ahead through by guiding them. Dr Silky Sharma & Dr Abhijit Das, MBA faculties coordinators for Alumni meet shared that in several ways, Alumni meet 2026 for previous MBA Batches turned out a successful event.

STUDENTS' ACHIEVEMENT

Congratulations to SHUBHASHREE U (MBA batch 2025-2027) on securing second place in the March Case Study Challenge organized by Business Standard BSmart on Maruti Suzuki's EV strategy.

UPDATES FROM OUR NATION

PM Modi Inaugurates Phase I of Noida International Airport

The airport in Jewar, Uttar Pradesh, was officially opened to the public. As a massive infrastructure project costing ₹11,200 crore, it is set to become one of the largest aviation hubs in Asia, significantly boosting connectivity and logistics in the National Capital Region.

India Crowned Champions of ICC Men's T20 World Cup 2026

In a historic victory on home soil, the Indian men's cricket team secured the T20 World Cup title. The win was celebrated across the nation as the "Men in Blue" dominated the tournament, eventually lifting the trophy after a thrilling final match in front of a capacity crowd.

UPI Hits Record 22.64 Billion Transactions in a Single Month

Digital finance reached a new milestone in March, with UPI transactions crossing the 22 billion mark. This surge highlights the deep integration of digital payments into the daily lives of Indian citizens, ranging from small street vendors to large-scale retail enterprises.

Indian Navy Assumes Chairmanship of Indian Ocean Naval Symposium

Returning to the helm after 16 years, the Indian Navy took over the chairmanship of the IONS for the 2026–2028 period. This leadership role emphasizes India's strategic importance in maintaining maritime security and fostering cooperation among 25 member nations in the Indian Ocean region.

UPDATES FROM CORPORATE WORLD

Industrial AI Takes Centre Stage in Corporate India

At the Siemens Innovation Day 2026, top executives discussed how industrial AI will transform Indian businesses. The event highlighted AI's role in improving efficiency, innovation, and supporting India's long-term goal of becoming a developed economy by 2047.

IPhonePe Pauses IPO Amid Global Uncertainty

Digital payments major PhonePe delayed its IPO plans due to global market volatility caused by geopolitical tensions (Iran conflict). The company will resume once conditions stabilize, reflecting caution among corporates in uncertain markets.

New Income Tax Rules 2026 Announced

The government notified new Income Tax Rules 2026, introducing greater compliance, clearer capital gains rules, and expanded HRA benefits. These changes will significantly impact corporate taxation and salaried employees from April onward.

Record Foreign Investor Sell-Off Hits Markets

Foreign Portfolio Investors (FPIs) withdrew nearly ₹89,916 crore from Indian markets in just 15 sessions—the largest outflow in two decades. This caused market volatility and reflects global concerns over inflation and geopolitical risks.

UPDATES FROM AROUND THE WORLD

Global Energy Crisis Begins Amid Iran Conflict

A major geopolitical conflict involving Iran disrupted the Strait of Hormuz, through which ~20% of global oil flows. This caused a sharp spike in crude prices and triggered fears of inflation, supply shortages, and global economic slowdown

Oil Prices Surge, Triggering Global Inflation Concerns

Oil prices surged dramatically (over 50% in some cases), increasing fuel costs worldwide and raising inflation risks. Governments and central banks began reassessing policies as energy costs threatened growth and consumer spending globally.

Global Stock Markets Witness Sharp Sell-Off

Global markets saw sharp volatility in March as the Iran war and a surge in crude oil prices reshaped investor expectations. Aswath Damodaran said the selloff reflected recalibration, not panic. Rising inflation expectations, higher bond yields and modest risk repricing drove equities lower amid continued uncertainty over the conflict's trajectory.

Central Banks Hold Rates Amid Uncertainty

Most global central banks paused interest rate changes, choosing caution due to geopolitical instability and inflation risks. This reflects uncertainty about whether to prioritize growth or control inflation in a volatile environment.

BOOK REVIEW

THE MONK WHO SOLD HIS FERRARI

The Monk Who Sold His Ferrari is a widely acclaimed self-help fable that uses a fictional narrative to deliver practical life lessons. The story follows Julian Mantle, a high-powered, stressed-out trial lawyer who suffers a heart attack in a crowded courtroom. This brush with death acts as a wake-up call, prompting him to sell every possession he owns—including his beloved red Ferrari—and trek into the Himalayas. There, he meets the Sages of Sivana, a community of monks who teach him ancient principles for achieving inner peace, vitality, and a purpose-driven life.

The heart of the book is a symbolic fable involving a garden, a lighthouse, a sumo wrestler, and a rose. Each element represents a specific virtue, such as mastering your mind, following your purpose (Dharma), and practicing "Kaizen" (continuous self-improvement). Julian returns to his old life transformed, looking years younger and radiating energy, to share these secrets with his former associate, John, proving that true success isn't about bank accounts but about disciplined habits and a positive mindset.

Ultimately, the book's "gist" is that you are the creator of your own reality. By protecting your mind from negativity, focusing on self-mastery, and valuing time as your most precious commodity, you can live a life of "radiance." For a student, this means shifting focus from just getting grades to building a strong character and a focused mind that can handle any challenge with calm and clarity.

For students and young professionals, the book's greatest strength lies in its highly motivational and easy-to-read style. Readers frequently praise its ability to turn abstract spiritual concepts into actionable rituals, such as the "Heart of the Rose" meditation for focus or the "Ritual of Early Awakening" for productivity. Many reviewers note that the book serves as an excellent entry point for those new to self-improvement, offering a clear roadmap for balancing professional ambition with inner peace and mental health.

MOVIE REVIEW

SWADES(2004)

Mohan Bhargava, a successful project manager at NASA, returns to India to find his childhood nanny, Kaveri Amma, and bring her back to the US. His search leads him to the remote village of Charanpur, where he initially feels like an outsider, viewing the rural struggles through a lens of modern privilege and frustration. However, as he stays longer, he begins to connect with the villagers and the simplicity of their lives.

The turning point occurs when Mohan witnesses the harsh realities of poverty and caste discrimination firsthand during a trip to collect dues from a struggling farmer. Realizing that "we are the people" responsible for change, he uses his scientific expertise to lead the villagers in a massive project to build a hydroelectric power plant. This collective effort brings electricity to the village for the first time, symbolizing a spark of hope and self-reliance.

Back in America, Mohan finds himself unable to ignore the pull of his homeland and the impact he can make there. Despite the comforts of his NASA career, he realizes his true purpose lies in contributing to India's development. He eventually resigns from his job and returns to Charanpur permanently to live with Kaveri Amma and marry Gita, the village schoolteacher who challenged his perspectives.

Key Takeaway: Real progress begins when individuals stop blaming "the system" and instead take personal responsibility to use their skills for the betterment of their community.
