The College of Physiotherapy, Dayananda Sagar University, conducted a one -day "Basic Emergency Care and Life Support" workshop on 19th February 2025. It was conducted in collaboration with Jeeva Raksha Trust. A total of 6 Experts from Jeeva Raksha Trust ensured detailed explanations of emergency situation and ground rules for its care and management. A practical hand -on sessions using CPR mannequins nurtured participants with the effort an individual can put to save a life. They highlighted the primary assessments techniques. They also demonstrated the acute management by simulating scenarios like Cardiac Arrest, choking, etc. Participants were trained on Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation and use of AED by the experts.

Simulation of the emergency situations, guided by Experts from Jeeva Raksha Trust emphasized importance of saving a life. Participants learnt techniques like tourniquet, shifting of injured to specific location, shock prevention and acute care, prevention of choking, etc.

Post session, theory and one to one practical evaluation was conducted for all participants. Event was concluded with distribution of certificates followed by vote of thanks.
